Hot News!

Vibration Monitoring is coming!

Construction of the Pojoaque Basin Regional Water System (PBRWS) project will begin in your neighborhood in the near future.

This is a U.S. Department of the Interior (US DOI) and Bureau of Reclamation (BOR) construction project contracted to CDM Smith Constructors, Inc.

As part of the PBRWS project, it will be necessary to perform pre-construction condition surveys on selected structures, adjacent to construction areas within the Pueblo boundaries.

The pre-construction condition surveys will collect data about the condition of selected structures through visual inspection, digital photography, and videos to document any pre-existing cosmetic or structural conditions outside of the structures. This will include any cracks in walls and other defects caused by normal aging and environmental forces.

CDM Smith Constructors, Inc. pays for this vibration monitoring survey. All photographs taken will remain with the project engineer (BOR) in strict confidence. They will be maintained for three years, and then destroyed.

Please keep in mind, construction methods and equipment planned for use by CDM Constructors, Inc. will not cause cracking to your property. These surveys are intended for your security and to document the pre-construction condition of your building(s).

The pre-construction condition survey gives you an opportunity to talk with the project engineer about your role in the project and what to expect during the construction process.

The survey should take less than an hour and you need to be present with the contractor and Tribal Official.

A Tribal Official will contact you to schedule an appointment.

If you have any questions, please call Lou Baker, AICP, Project Manager (505) 220-0800 or pm@sanipueblo.org

Pueblo de San Ildefonso Office of Project Management

Pojoaque Basin Regional Water System (PBRWS)

The Pojoaque Basin Regional Water System (PBRWS) is an important part of the Aamodt Settlement Agreement and will divert water from the Rio Grande. It includes a water treatment facility, along with storage tanks, pump stations, and transmission and distribution pipelines. As part of the project, vibration-monitoring activities will be undertaken to protect the property owner from any damage caused during construction.

Below is a list of frequently asked questions (FAQs) about vibration monitoring.

1. What is Vibration Monitoring?

Vibration monitoring consists of three (3) parts:

1. Risk survey: A condition survey of any structures or sensitive features within the construction area. This survey includes the vibration monitor to visit, make note of any existing cracks or damage to a structure, and take pictures of the structure to document the current conditions of the structure.
2. Digital Video Recording: The vibration monitor will walk the pipeline corridor recording the existing roads, exteriors of structures such as walls and building, and existing acequias and arroyos prior to construction.
3. Seismic monitoring: The vibration monitor will use seismographs to record any ground vibrations that occur due to the equipment used during construction. This information is used to determine the distance needed between the equipment and any structures to prevent damage.

2. What is vibration monitoring used for?

a. Vibration monitoring is used to protect the property owner from any damage being caused during construction. Risk Surveys are intended for your security and provide you with an understanding of the pre-construction condition of your building. This is an opportunity to talk about the scope of work for this project and what to expect during the construction.

3. How is vibration monitoring performed?

a. After the risk surveys and digital video recordings are performed, seismographs are used to monitor ground vibrations and noise during heavy equipment operations to ensure vibration levels remain well below safe guidelines that will protect your property from potential damage. The use of seismographs will also serve as a check on compliance with safe vibration standards. Please do not be alarmed if you see these orange boxes placed temporarily around the Pueblo.

4. Why was my home selected and not others?

a. Only structures within 80 ft from this pipeline corridor were identified as good candidates for a structure survey. During this survey, our engineers take digital photographs outside of your structure(s) to document existing cracks and other defects that have been caused by normal aging and environmental forces.

5. How long will the survey take?

a. The survey should take less than half an hour. The photographs will remain in strict confidence with J. Aimone Associates and with the Pueblo.

Current pipeline construction schedule

The pipeline subcontractor CF Padilla will mobilize on September 9th. They will work on tanks and other sites prior to working close to the Main Plaza. The subcontractor estimates to be at the Plaza between March and May 2025.

Indian Health Service (IHS)

Application for Sanitation Facilities (Water and Sewer Service) Scattered Housing

Public Law 86-121 allows Indian Health Services to assist members of federally recognized native tribes to access a potable drinking water supply and a safe means of disposing of wastewater for their home use.

The IHS has a Scattered Housing program to address these residential deficiencies. You may be eligible if your home meets basic standard of living requirements for example, its insulated, has electricity, indoor plumbing, etc. and your home meets the eligibility requirements of the Indian Health Service.

If you are in need of potable drinking water or a waste water system, please reach out to the Office of Project Management or the Tribal Administration Front Desk for an application.

A completed application consists of the following:

- 1) Tribal enrollment number.
- 2) Signed "Agreement to Participate in IHS Project."
- 3) Proof of your legal right to reside on the subject property
(i.e. copy of lease, deed, or letter from the Tribe indicating that you have been assigned this land).
- 4) If the application is for a HUD Home, the home must be paid off before qualifying for this program.
A statement from the San Ildefonso Housing Authority is required to verify payoff.
- 5) Obtain the signature of the Governor or Tribal Administrator on the application to certify Tribal approval of the application.

As of today, all paving is complete. There are some sidewalks that are still being formed and poured with concrete. The hauling of dirt will commence again on the northside pads to bring up levels to grade. You will see trucks coming and going from the Barro area on the west side of the river. Please be cautious as traffic and the presence of trucks make it a little more dangerous for driving condition. Infrastructure is going well, and everything is running on schedule. SIHA will continue to keep everyone updated on the progress that has been made. Have a great month. Thank You.

In Loving Memory

Albert Austin James Titla

From our family to yours, we would like to express our sincerest gratitude during our time of loss for our beloved son, brother, nephew, cousin and friend, Albert "AJ" Titla. Thank you to Governor Moquino and Tribal Council, Tribal Administration and the entire community for all the support, kind words, assistance and donations that we received.

AJ loved traveling with family, going to concerts with his sister Leah and painting with his brother Forrest. AJ also loved spending time with family and friends, whether at a barbecue or just going to your house to hang out and talk. He was a fan of the Oakland Raiders and San Francisco Giants but most of all, he loved his tribal community. He took pride in participating in our traditional ceremonies and dances and lending a helping hand when he could. Although AJ was here for a brief time, he loved a lifetime's worth. We will forever miss his laughter and his beautiful smile.

As you were here for us, please know that we are here for you all whenever you need help, please don't hesitate to come by. May AJ's spirit watch over every one of you and that you are blessed with peace, love and happiness.

Kuu dah wo ha,
Austin, Shannon, Forrest, Leah, Brooke
& The Vigil Family
