REVISED ENROLLMENT POLICY

Saturday, November 5, 2022, 9:00 am – 12:00 pm

Tribal Administration Conference Room

Light Breakfast to be Served

The Tribal Council's Enrollment Committee has worked diligently to revise the 1999 Enrollment Policies and Procedures. They have developed a revised draft, which is available to view on the Pueblo's website. A copy of the revised policy is also available by request. Contact Legislative Manager, Brandi Martinez at legislative.manager@sanipueblo.org to request a copy for review.

Comments and questions by Tribal members regarding the revised Enrollment Policies and Procedures will be welcomed and answered during this time. This hearing will be conducted by Facilitator Lucy Moore, on behalf of the Enrollment Committee in order to maintain an unbiased approach to the open discussion.

Tribal member participation is strongly encouraged in order to discuss areas of the policy that directly affect the community and future enrollees. Open discussion is imperative in fine tuning this policy before action is taken by Tribal Council.

Pueblo de San Ildefonso

Enrollment Office

The Enrollment Office is part of Tribal Services Department and at this time, Mr. Stuart Christian is acting Enrollment Officer. He can be reached at (505)455-4105 or tsd@sanipueblo.org. The Enrollment office is located at the Administration Building (Governor's Office) next to the Receptionist.

Our office not only handles applications for enrollment but also disenrollment, relinquishment, deaths, changes in Certificate of Indian Blood (CIB), issuance of CIB's, and issuance of tribal ID's. This office also holds an enrollment file for each tribal member. During a recent review of the files, the enrollment office has found that there are a number of files that are incomplete. Records should contain the CIB, application for enrollment, birth certificate, marriage certificate (if married) and a family record sheet that shows the individual, his/her parents, and the individual's grandparents.

We advise all of you to come in and review your personal file and submit any information that might be missing. If your phone, email, or address has changed, we would also like to update those in our records as well. The information we have on file is used to help with things such as distributions.

If you need a Tribal ID, please come in to our office and we will get that done for you. The cost is $10 for those that are 19 years old and over but free for 18 and younger.

Our current enrollment policy is going to change and a draft of the new law is available under the Community section of our website (www.sanipueblo.org).

If you have any questions regarding IDs, enrollment, or your file, please feel free to come in or contact the office.

PUEBLO DE SAN ILDEFONSO 73 ACRE BOSQUE HFR PROJECT- BIL 2022

The Natural Resources Department in conjunction with the Bureau of Indian Affairs was awarded funding from the President's Bipartisan Infrastructure Law to implement Hazardous Fuels Reduction Projects. The Pueblo has been awarded funding to meet this initiative. Approximately 900 acres of the Rio Grande River Bosque Area have been identified within the Wildland Urban Interface (WUI) currently requiring Hazardous Fuels Reduction treatments. These "Bosque Projects" have been done in the past and this will be a continuation of those efforts and those previously treated units are now in need of maintenance or retreatment.

The objectives of this project are to reduce the hazardous fuels and fire condition class levels to protect life, structures, infrastructure, and cultural and natural resources from the threat of an intense wildland fire. To do so we will be controlling and eventually eradicating non-native exotic species which currently consist of Siberian Elm (Ulmus Pumila), Russian Olive (Elaeagnus angustifolia), and Salt Cedar (Tamarisk spp.) and initiate plant succession toward a historic desired native plant community consisting of Rio Grande Cottonwood, willow, native shrubs, forbs, and grasses. A native plant community will benefit wildlife, and water sources, and eventually, restore proper ecological function.

To do so the Pueblo will contract out the mechanical mastication of the 73 acres followed up by a hand crew to complete treatments by hand power tools and herbicide treatments. The 73-acre project area is located in the northern extent of the Pueblos Bosque T. 19N. R.8E. Sections 32, & 33 (see map provided below). The area has been surveyed for Cultural Resources and Threatened Endangered and Sensitive Species. Best management practices will be implemented to minimize ground disturbance as well as considerations for wildlife in the area. This project is projected to begin in early November into the new year. Follow-up maintenance of non-native re-sprouts will occur in the spring and summer. Efforts will also include the reintroduction of native seedling species.

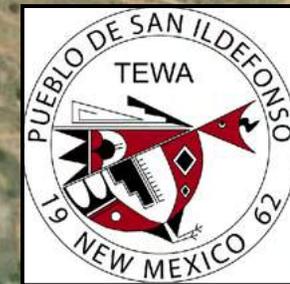

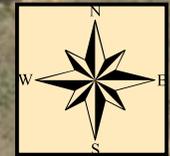

We will be hiring for aid with this project and will be advertising soon for Range Technicians. Should you have any questions regarding this project you may contact Natural Resources Director Lawrence Atencio at 505-455-4138.

Acu-detox is a calming form of pressing the re-set button on our nervous systems. It helps to diminish stress, uplift the spirit and bring balance to our mind-body connection.

Our certified auricular detoxification specialists needle points in the ear, and afterwards folks sit back while the treatment works quietly over the next 45 minutes.

Ear seeds are also available for those who are open to experiencing the benefits of the treatment with acuPRESSURE only. Our practitioners apply a small bandaid strip with a mustard-sized seed to the inside of the ear, and it can be easily removed when desired.

NATIVE AMERICAN HERITAGE MONTH

Can Technology Help Native Communities Make Healthier Food Choices?

LADAWN YAZZIE, MPH, PUBLIC HEALTH EDUCATOR

Native American History

The history of all Native American people starts with stories of traditional native lifeway, which include food. Much of the foods would include corn, beans, and squash, also called the 'three sisters'. The 'sisters' were low in fat, high in fiber, and high in starch.

Long before McDonald's, family groups were worried there was not enough food for every member to eat. Native families did not have money and they did not understand what it meant to be in good health. High levels of physical activities were part of everyone's daily routine, this would include getting food or hunting wild game. Little did the people know, food, nutrition and health would change due to unkindness from others.

For many years the United States government did not like Native people, they mistreated them. First, food was taken, next homes were burnt, and lastly, their farms were ruined, and family members were stolen. It was a very sad time. But with the suffering, tribes were able to outlive hunger and the human unkindness of others.

Health

Today a few native families have lost their way and are now looking for a better way to help themselves. The Native people were hit hardest by many health problems, this includes death which was due to having chronic health issues or heart disease.

Native Americans are four times more likely to become a diabetic than other groups living in the United States. Various health professionals believe it is important to stay active and be careful of what you eat. These health groups are trying to help Native communities to learn about important ways to recover and stay healthy.

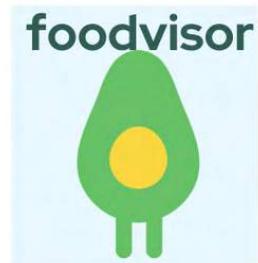

AMERICAN DIABETES MONTH

New Technology

The world we live in today is changing for everyone. Most people can see it advanced with computer systems, internet connection, and tools that help humans to live with fewer health problems. Science calls this new smart tool, artificial intelligence. The new tools help to make better food choices and better meals to eat. It will guide everyone to understand how food can be an important part of living a long and healthy life. There are a few ways it works. Most new technology work with a smartphone. There are a few computer applications that work with a smartphone. One app like Foodvisor works by giving nutrition facts about food from a picture.

First, the apps work by taking a picture with a cell phone. The smartphone's camera takes the ingredients in the picture and studies the nutritional content of the food items. Foodvisor does the work, it breaks down calories, fat, protein, carbs, and fiber in food. Individuals can find out more about what they are putting in their own bodies. Lastly, the computer will keep track, report, and save the information so you are able to add up what you ate! The software helps you to improve recipes with the aid of the computer's memory. It serves to give the most healthful choice from the ingredients in a picture.

Instead of having a supper made up of high-starchy ingredients or high-fat meats, this app can help to boost different wholesome meals. Maybe it will show us how to use the three sisters in our meals as Native people did years ago. Help from technology can keep us all from having health problems in the future. It will not mistreat a user; it does not want to harm the body. The main purpose of this app is to give the best information to fuel the body with the right nutrients. Native people can get help from artificial intelligence. Their smartphone is not only helping to make dinner but also looking out for their health and well-being. The benefits may change a person's high blood pressure, or it may even help control a person who is suffering from diabetes. In the long run, it will decrease the fatty plaque that builds up which can lead to heart problems or other health issues within the body. The world continues to change, and it continues to advance, and this opportunity will help explore the possible outcomes when using computers.

National Clean Out Your Fridge Day - November 15th

CLEAN OUT YOUR REFRIGERATOR DAY FAQs

How often should you clean your refrigerator out?

A refrigerator needs a deep clean every three to four months. But if you can't you should definitely try to clean it out once a year on Clean Out Your Refrigerator Day.

Should I turn off the refrigerator when cleaning?

You should definitely unplug your refrigerator before cleaning it out for your own safety.

What's the best way to clean out your refrigerator?

Clear out everything in your fridge, and wipe down everything, including the doors and drawers with hot soapy water.

HOW TO CELEBRATE CLEAN OUT YOUR REFRIGERATOR DAY?

- Clean your refrigerator
- Stick with the intent of the holiday and get to work on all the stuff in your fridge!
- Help a friend or family member. Cleaning out a refrigerator can be hard work, so go on and lend a helping hand.
- Donate your extra food
- This is a great opportunity to reach out to people in your community who might need a little extra support, and you won't end up wasting any food.

WHY WE CELEBRATE CLEAN OUT YOUR REFRIGERATOR DAY

- We need a reason to clean
- Having a dedicated day to clean our refrigerators is great for making sure we do a big clean at least once a year!
- Food safety is important
- A clean refrigerator is the best way to make sure no food ends up contaminated by the other.
- The holidays are around the corner
- Cleaning out your fridge is essential to make sure you have enough room for all that holiday cooking!

Food can be placed in bag or can and put into compactor (green bin) . It MUST be bagged, please do not through open food or slop in bins. There are designated areas for open food/slop.

Recycling at the Transfer Station

We ask that you please EMPTY your recyclables from your bags into the Recycling Bin and throw bag(s) in compactor. The workers at the Recycling Center cannot see what is in the bags and can be a hazard, as well. It also helps the Attendants catch any items that are not allowed in the bin.

If we have items that are not allowed, the Recycling facility will not accept our bin and will cause delays in our pick up and additional costs. Please see flyer for what is accepted and what is not.

The American Community Survey

Resources for American Indians and Alaska Natives

IS YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION SAFE?

Yes. The U.S. Census Bureau is required by law to protect your information. The Census Bureau is not permitted to publicly release your responses in a way that could identify you.

Per the Federal Cybersecurity Enhancement Act of 2015, your data are protected from cybersecurity risks through screening of the systems that transmit your data.

WHAT IS THE AMERICAN COMMUNITY SURVEY (ACS)?

The ACS is a part of the U.S. Census Bureau's decennial census program and is designed to provide timely and accurate social, economic, housing, and demographic estimates throughout the decade. The questions on the ACS supply the tribes with data they may need for a range of programs affecting education, veterans, employment, housing and community development, public health care, services for the elderly and disabled, and assistance programs for low-income families and children. Statistics produced by the ACS can guide tribes and tribal organizations as they make important decisions.

WHY IS TRIBAL PARTICIPATION IMPORTANT?

Responses to the questions on the ACS supply the statistics needed to assess a variety of programs. When American Indians and Alaska Natives (AIAN) complete the ACS, they are helping to ensure that the best statistics are available to their communities to inform future decisions. This need for accurate and complete data is particularly important for tribes and tribal organizations.

HOW DO WE COMPLETE THE ACS?

The Census Bureau samples addresses—not individuals. Most households selected to participate in the ACS receive a letter with instructions to access and complete the survey online.

If you have questions about the survey, please call the Telephone Questionnaire Assistance Line at 1-800-354-7271.

The Census Bureau works with tribal leaders to conduct in-person interviews on tribal lands. Field representatives who may also be tribal members will conduct personal interviews using laptop computers.

WHAT QUESTIONS DOES THE ACS ASK?

The topics included on the ACS were chosen because the federal government requires the data to manage or evaluate programs.

For example, information on income is required by the Social Security Administration, the National School Lunch Program, the Low Income Energy Assistance Program, and the U.S. Department of Education for grant allocation. The following federal laws and programs affecting AIAN also use ACS estimates:

- Civil Rights Act (1964)
- Native American Programs Act (1974)
- Indian Health Care Improvement Act (1976)
- State Children's Health Insurance Program (1997)
- Veterans Benefits Improvement Act (1994)

You can find fact sheets that explain why we ask each question and provide common uses of each question on the Census Bureau's website at www.census.gov/ACSWhyWeAsk.

HOW CAN TRIBAL COMMUNITIES USE ACS DATA?

Tribal planners and administrators, as well as national organizations serving the AIAN community, may find ACS estimates useful in accessing funding for tribal programs and initiatives or planning for future economic development, housing needs, and access to health and educational services for the people in their communities.

In combination with information from tribal administrative records, ACS estimates complete the portrait of a community and provide an enhanced view of a community's current and future needs. However, to ensure that these estimates are accurate, we need your help to encourage your tribal community members to respond.

HOW DOES THE CENSUS BUREAU HELP TRIBAL COMMUNITIES ACCESS ACS ESTIMATES?

ACS estimates are available at www.census.gov/tribal. The ACS website, www.census.gov/acs, also provides a free series of handbooks, presentations, and data user guidance that make accessing this important information easier.

Local data dissemination specialists are available to give presentations and help people find, use, and understand ACS statistics. You can find contact information for these local specialists by e-mail at census.askdata@census.gov or by calling 1-844-275-3282.

You can also find contact information for the many groups that participate in the Census Bureau State Data Center and Census Information Center programs, including those serving the AIAN community at www.census.gov/sdc.

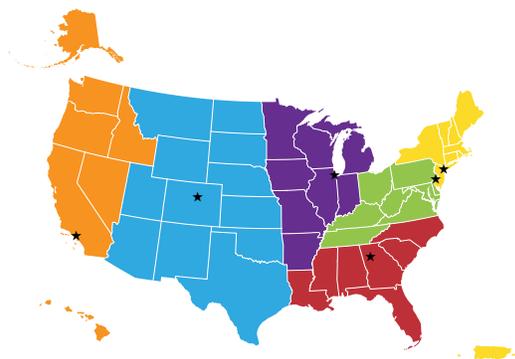

WHO CAN WE CONTACT FOR ADDITIONAL HELP?

For additional assistance, please contact our ACS helpline at 1-800-354-7271, or your Census Bureau regional office listed below.

Census regional offices:

	Atlanta: 1-800-424-6974
	Chicago: 1-800-865-6384
	Denver: 1-800-852-6159
	Los Angeles: 1-800-992-3530
	New York: 1-800-991-2520
	Philadelphia: 1-800-262-4236

To get more information about AIAN participation in the ACS and other Census Bureau surveys, please contact a member of the Tribal Affairs Team by e-mail at OCIA.TAO@census.gov or by calling 301-763-6100. For more information about the ACS, visit www.census.gov/acs.
